Procedure

Familias of 4+
30-40 minutes

In groups of 4+ students (familias), assign each person a number 1-4. If there are more than 4 per group, you can double up any number.

Assign each student a different section of the text and/or different task based on their number. This also can be completed as homework before class.

Place students into "expert groups" (1s work together, 2s work together, etc.). Assign a specific task like analyzing their section, filling out a worksheet, creating a section summary, pulling and discussing golden lines, looking for evidence to answer a specific question to answer in their upcoming essay, etc.

Have students return to their home groups. The experts should report back and give information related to their task. For example, if the task was to summarize their section, they should report the summary to the home group, and the home group should write it down so that each member of the home group has information related to each section.
